MUST CONNECT TO THE CITY SEWER

MANY COMPLAINTS MADE TO THE CITY COUNCIL BECAUSE OF STENCH WHICH ARISES FROM STORM SEWER CAUSES ACTION TO BE TAKEN TO REQUIRE SEWER DRAINS TO BE CONNECTED WITH SEWER—SCPTIC TANK QUESTION UP FOR DISCUSSION.

WILL PASS AN ORDINANCE

Complaints from citizens that persons who before the sewer system was built had connected sewer drains to the storm sewers and have not yet connected with the city sewer, caused the city council at its meeting Tuesday evening to order the city attorney to at once prepare a city ordinance which will require all persons who have connected their sewer drains or cess pool overflow drain to the storm sewers to at once cut off the connection and connect with the city sewer.

Especially obnoxious are conditions, arising from the stench which comes from the storm sewer which crosses Seminary street at Taylor avenue and passing through the two residence blocks north of Seminary crosses Washington street, near Locust street. Many persons, it is said, have their sewer drains connected with this storm sewer, which causes the bad condition. The city attorney was asked to frame an ordinance which, if possible, would require all persons having cess pools and sewer drains, which connect into storm sewers, to connect with the city sewer. The council will meet in special session on Friday night to consider the ordinance which will be prepared by the city attorney.

George Landes, who resides near the corner of Washington street and Locust street, filed a complaint regarding the conditions, with the council Tuesday night. Other complaints had been filed and most of the councilmen were aware of the conditions. Drastic measures, if necessary, will be taken by the council to abate the nuisance.

A petition of Jesse Weik, who styled himself as a "resident and taxpayer," asking that the name of College avenue be changed to Ephraim street, which was the original name of the street, was referred to the committee on streets and alleys, where it probably will remain. The council did not seem to take the request seriously.

Another communication of interest received by the council was a lengthy appeal from Dane Dunlap, who resides on Genesis farm, Greencastle, Rural Route No. 7. In his communication Mr. Dunlap outlined three automobile evils. His complaints are that there is too much speeding; that the motorists do not keep to the right side of the road and that the brilliant electric lights are not dimmed by motorists when they approach and pass other vehicles. He recommended that the council appoint a committee on automobile traffic to regulate these evils and suggested the passage of ordinances governing the evils.

Although the communication was not acted on further than to receive it and place it on file, it caused to be brought up the question of the parking of cars on the square. Because of no regulations for the parking of cars, the conditions of the streets on a busy day in Greencastle are bad. Cars are parked everywhere without any order or conformity. The city attorney was instructed to draw up an ordinance regulating the parking of cars in the business district. It probably will require cars parked on the square to be parked against the court house sidewalks, cars to be headed in toward the court house, in regular form. On the side streets no car shall be parked nearer than 25 feet from the corner and all cars shall be parked on the right side of the street. Cars will not be allowed to turn around on the square or side streets.

At the request of the Nance Creamery Co., management, the city hitch lot, which now is littered with stone taken from the sewer excavation by the Foulkes Contracting Co., will be cleared of the stone. The city attorney was instructed to notify the Foulkes Contracting Co., to have the stone taken away. The street leading to the creamery building also will be repaired.

On account of some difficulties in securing permission to drain the septic tank overflow through lands necessary to get to the creek, where it was intended to build a filter bed, the council agreed to tile the overflow west from the septic tank, under the Big Four railroad tracks, where the overflow will be again allowed to take its own course. This will avoid the nuisance to Alfred Hirt, over which there has been much complaint. Later if the land owners will grant the privilege to continue the laying of the tile to the creek, the tiling will be continued. At the special meeting on Friday night bids will be received for a car load of 18-inch tile to be used on the work.

ROACHDALE MEN IN AUTOMOBILE SPILL

While on their way from Roachdale to Russellville Tuesday evening, Charley Edwards, Joel Tobin, Lon Grider and Albert Curry, who were riding in the Curry garage car, driven by Mr. Curry, met with an accident in which three of the men were thrown from the car, and one was caught under the car, when it struck some loose gravel and turned over. Luckily none of the men were badly injured.

The three men were on their way to Russellville, where the Eastern Stars of that town entertained the Roachdale lodge Tuesday night. About two miles west of Roachdale the car struck a lot of loose gravel. The front axle of the car broke when it hit the loose material and the car turned completely over. Edwards, Tobin and Grider were thrown clear of the car, but Mr. Curry was caught under it. The other men lifted the car off Mr. Curry and found that he was not badly injured. Each of the men received some cuts and bruises but none was badly injured. The car, however, was wrecked.

CORN SHOW PRIZE LIST ANNOUNCED

CENTRAL NATIONAL BANK AND CENTRAL TRUST CO. HAVE ADDED PREMIUMS FOR BOYS AND GIRLS WHO CAN SHOW ABILITY AT JUDGING—TOTAL OF PRIZES IS $26.

BIG EXHIBIT IS EXPECTED

The premium list for the fourth annual corn show of the Central National Bank and the Central Trust Co., of Greencastle has been announced. It includes plenty of cash prizes for everybody, and some new features for the boys and girls, and amounts to $26.00, well distributed among the different classes.

The premium list was extended this year to include the judging contest for girls as well as boys under the ages of 16 years, as many of the girls are taking an unusual interest in the production of more and better corn.

The literature distributed by the bank has been in demand this year, and it is expected that more corn will be exhibited at this show than any previous similar occasion. The later date gives everybody a chance at the prize money, and the fact that eleven premiums are offered indicates a large number in each class.

The judging contest for the youngsters is unique as it is the first of the kind ever held here, but the interest already shown, indicates that there will be considerable rivalry for the prizes, which are as follows:

For the boy or girl under 16 years of age using the best judgment in scoring the exhibits, a prize of $2.00 in cash will be awarded, with a second prize of $1.00. The scoring will be done according to the method taught in the schools, and must be done before the regular judges begin work.

The premiums for the exhibits are as follows:

For the best five ears of white corn grown in Putnam County, first, $5.00; second, $2.50; third, $1.00. For the best five ears of yellow corn grown in Putnam County, first, $5.00; second, $2.50; third, $1.00. For the best single ear grown in Putnam County, either white or yellow, one prize of $2.00 will be awarded. Entries in this class must not be included in a five ear exhibit, but must be entered separately for this prize.

Boys' Class—Under 16 Years.
For the best five ears of white corn, grown by any Putnam County boy under 16 years, $2.00. For the best five ears of yellow corn grown by any Putnam County boy under 16 years, $2.00.

All entries must be in before 11 o'clock Saturday morning, Nov. 20.

CLYDE BALLARD MARRIES A CHICAGO WOMAN TODAY

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 10.—Clyde Ballard of Greencastle today secured a marriage license to wed Mrs. Amanda Sullivan, age 36, of Chicago.

Clyde Ballard is the man who owns and operates the pop-corn wagon at the corner of Washington and Indiana streets.

The condition of David Rudisill, of Indianapolis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Rudisill of this city, who has been very ill for many weeks, is sufficiently improved that his friends and relatives hope that he may entirely recover his former health. Mr. Rudisill was in a critical condition for many weeks.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church will hold a Thanksgiving market at the Hanna Furniture store the day before Thanksgiving.

The Ladies' Aid of Locust Street Church will meet tomorrow at 2:30 o'clock in the church parlors.

ATTORNEY GENERAL IS CALLED BY DEATH
(By Will's S. Thompson.)

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 10.—One of the strongest men in an unusually and exceptionally strong state administration was Attorney General Richard M. Milburn, who died at 4 o'clock Tuesday morning at the Methodist Episcopal Hospital here. His home was at Jasper.

A brief funeral service was arranged by the family to be held from the Indianapolis residence at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, the body being taken to Jasper on the noon train, services at Jasper to be held at 2 o'clock Thursday. A meeting of state officials held Tuesday afternoon selected Judge M. B. Lairy, Judge W. E. Felt, Omar Jackson, Phil Zoercher, Burt New and J. Fred France as active bearers for the Indianapolis services. The honorary pall bearers were selected six former attorneys general of the state, Clarence A. Buskirk, Charles W. Miller, William L. Taylor, William A. Ketcham and Thomas M. Honan, and James A. Bingham.

At the request of the bar association of Dubois county that organization was allowed to have charge at Jasper.

Governor Ralston, who has been on a brief visit to his old home in Ohio, was notified of the unexpected death and announced his purpose to return for the funeral. Later he found that train schedules made this impossible but he continued by long distance telephone to take an active part in all the arrangements. A number of state officials arranged to be present at the Jasper services and practically all of them to be present at the Indianapolis services.

Mr. Milburn was elected to the office of Attorney General in 1914 and his work in that position has been characterized by the same earnestness and hard work that has marked his work in his private law practice or in official position all his life. His death was caused directly from heart leakage. His persistency in refusing to recognize the seriousness of his illness and his unwillingness to desist from work for a season of rest may be responsible for his death.

He had been warned repeatedly and most earnestly by his physicians that he could continue at his work and hope to regain his health but in the overconfidence which he held in his strength to do and conquer his malady was fatal. When he attended the democratic meeting at New Albany, in face of his physicians' protest, he came home and has since then been confined to his home, but even during his illness he has kept in touch with his office, even the day before his death having called his stenographer to his home to dictate some correspondence. At that time one letter was to his law partner at Jasper, M. A. Sweeney, and one burden of the letter was warning Mr. Sweeney to be careful of his health, and to let his health be considered ahead of business.

Because of much new legislation and increased amount of state business Mr. Milburn had been called upon and had rendered more legal opinion than any of his predecessors and among members of the bar and judges he was considered one of the ablest attorneys general the state has ever had.

In the pre-convention campaign in which he won the democratic nomination he had broken his health greatly and the work of the general campaign did not add any to his strength. When he had wound up his private affairs in cutting away to resume his official duties, he was forced to take a brief rest after taking the oath of office. Late in the fall of 1915 he reluctantly consented to take a trip west and it was immediately following this that he went to New Albany and came home to his final breakdown.

Mr. Milburn was 50 years of age. He was born at Portersville September 24, 1865, the eldest of three children. A brother, James S., lives at East St. Louis and a sister, Mrs. Mattie J. Beck, at Chicago. Mr. Milburn attended the country schools in Dubois County until he was 16, then going to the state normal at Terre Haute for two years. He graduated from the southern Indiana normal at Mitchell and from the Cumberland University law school, at Lebanon, Tennessee, in 1887. He later graduated from the literary department of Indiana University.

He was married to Miss Lizzie Fowler, of Dubois county, in 1887 and his home had since been at Jasper, where he served for a time as superintendent of schools. He was also associate professor in law at Indiana University in 1902 and 1903. The balance of his life he spent practicing law at Jasper until he was elected attorney general. He served as state senator from Dubois and Daviess in the sessions of 1903 and 1905.

He was active in church work, being a member of the Trinity Presbyterian church at Jasper, from which place he will be buried. Since coming to Indianapolis, he has been an active Sunday school worker. He was a Mason, Knight of Pythias and an Elk. He is survived by a widow, four sons and one daughter. With the exception of Frank W., a lieutenant in the United States army and stationed at the Canal Zone, all members were present at his bedside at the time of his death.

FIRE PREVENTION ESSAY CONTEST DECIDED

First prize in the Fire Prevention Essay Contest held recently by the State Fire Marshal, has been awarded to Gordon Clevenger, a student in the Greensburg high school, second prize going to Helman Blatt of the Evansville high school. First place pays the winner $15, second receiving $10. The judges gave honorable mention to the manuscripts written by Miss Nell McCarty, Ft. Branch high school and Miss Uzeffia Monroe, Warren high school. Essays receiving special consideration were submitted by Paul G. Brewster, Oakland City; F. Edwin Purple, Hagerstown, and David Lillenthal, Michigan City.

The judges in the contest were chosen from the Fire Marshal Department and from the office of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction. The purpose of the contest to stimulate interest among the high school students in Fire Prevention, was accomplished. The state library received numerous requests for material published on Fire Prevention and the high school principals rendered material aid in making the contest a success.

FIRE MARSHAL TEARS DOWN BUILDING

Power to enforce his orders by tearing down dilapidated buildings on the failure of owners to comply with tear-down orders was invoked by the Fire Marshal recently for the first time in New Castle when his operatives removed a group of old dilapidated buildings belonging to Martin Dolan, situated on Broad Street and the L. E. & W. railroad. Following the issuance of the order by the Fire Marshal, the owner appealed to the Henry County Circuit Court for a review of the order which directed him to tear down his buildings. The court affirmed the order of the Fire Marshal on appeal and fixed the date for compliance as April 24, 1915. The owner having failed to comply with the order as affirmed by the court on that date, his buildings were razed by the department. The Indiana statutes provide that the expense of such removing shall be charged to the owner. His failure to pay the costs within thirty days results in adding a penalty of 25 per cent. to the costs. The entire amount is then placed on the tax duplicate and collected as taxes, becoming a lien on the real estate on which the buildings stood.

MOVIE GOSSIP.

Lyric Tonight.
In the Clemenceau Case showing at the Lyric tonight only, Dumas has attained the capstone of his towering genius. Of Iza, the pantherish heroine of this deathless drama, he himself wrote, "I shall never create another such character though I scribble till doomsday."

Iza's sinister beauty and its fatal effect on the lives of two noble men form the main plot of "The Clemenceau Case." Pierre, her husband, whom she casts off for Constantin Ritz, she leaves with his career as a talented sculptor blasted forever. In turn she toys with the infatuated Ritz, shattering his hopes, ambitions and home life.

But Pierre saves Ritz against himself. With heroic self-sacrifice he allows himself, apparently, to fall once more under Iza's spell. He meets her in her oriental boudoir. As she presses her false lips to Pierre's he stabs her to the heart just as Ritz enters.

"I have saved you for your wife," says Pierre calmly as he telephones for the police. "As for me Iza killed my heart years ago."

Bispham as Beethoven.

Those fond of the best in the music and the drama will be interested in the announcement that David Bispham, the eminent American operatic and concert baritone, will appear here as Beethoven in the romantic one act play, "Adelaide," for a concert in the Opera House on Tuesday, Nov. 16.

"Adelaide," written by Hugo Miller about 1862, thirty-five years after Beethoven's death, has been a classic in German theatres for more than fifty years.

"Any actor who could look at all like the great composer, was only too glad to have an opportunity to play this part," says Mr. Bispham. "Beethoven's letters, his life, and his loves were, and still continue to be, matters of constant interest and curiosity to those who admire his music, and this play is founded upon the attachment between him and the Countess Julia Guicciardi, to whom the "Moonlight" Sonata was dedicated, and in whose memory the song "Adelaide" is, in the play, supposed to have been written.

"Before the play begins the strains of music are heard from the stage. With the rise of the curtain the interior of Beethoven's lodging in Vienna is seen and the man from whom he rents his rooms, a violinist, is, with his daughter, playing one of Beethoven's violin pieces, "Romance in F."

"Later in the play two of Beethoven's songs are sung, one by Clara, the lodging-house keeper's daughter, whose fresh young voice is the only thing that Beethoven is still able to hear. She sings to him the well known "Joyful and Sorrowful," from "Egmont." Later Beethoven's amanuensis, who is in love with Clara, sings to her Beethoven's song of work-wide fame, "Adelaide."

"At the conclusion of the play, after Beethoven and the beautiful Countess have had a most affecting scene, he is left alone at the close of day—the rays of the rising moon fall upon him through the window as he stands by his piano. He pensively turns and seating himself strikes a few chords and sings the opening strains of his own song, "In Questa Tomba."

"Within this lonely dwelling, Oh, let me tranquil be, Though thou art gone beloved I still will think of thee." His fingers straying over the keys, he falls into the familiar "Moonlight" Sonata.

"Beethoven was known to be the greatest extemporist of his time, and in the play, as he sits alone in the moonlight, his thoughts turning inevitably toward the woman of his heart, presently there are heard the strains of his immortal song, "Adelaide," mingling with those of the "Moonlight" Sonata, as the curtain slowly descends."

Supporting Mr. Bispham as Beethoven will be a specially selected company of actor singers, including Mme. Marie Narelle, soprano; Miss Kathleen Coman, piano; Miss Idelle Patterson, mezzo; Mr. Henri Barron, tenor, and Mr. Graham Harris, violin.

In conjunction with the presentation of "Adelaide," and preceding it, Mr. Bispham and his company will offer a miscellaneous concert called, "The Rehearsal."

Death of Henry Grubb.

The Rockville Tribune tells of the death of Henry Grubb, a native of Putnam county, and a brother of George Grubb, deceased, of this city, as follows:

"Henry Grubb, one of Parke county's best known and loved citizens, died at his home in Rockville about 5:30 o'clock Monday evening after an illness of several months, due to a stroke of paralysis. Mr. Grubb, after his first stroke continued in feeble health, although he was able to be up in town and about his home a part of the time until a few weeks ago, when he took seriously ill and has been unable to leave his bed, although at times he showed considerable improvement. Mr. Grubb would have been 70 years old the 10th of next February.

"Mr. Grubb was born in the western edge of Putnam county, where he grew to manhood and after his marriage moved to Jackson township, this county, where he followed the occupation of farming. In 1902 he was elected auditor of Parke county and served four years, looking after the duties of his office in a thorough manner, and because of his kind disposition and desire to please had the good will of men of all political faiths. He also served a short time as county surveyor. He answered the call to arms and served three years in the Twenty-first Indiana Infantry, which later became the First Indiana Heavy Artillery.

"Besides the widow, Mr. Grubb leaves one son, Marion, of Rockville, and three daughters, Mrs. Charles Carmichael, living southeast of Hollandburg; Mrs. Walter McMurtry of Marshall, and Miss Carrie, who lived with her parents.

"Funeral services will be held from the home Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock; burial following in the Rockville cemetery."

Wabash Has "Buck Ague."

A special correspondent of The Star, writing from Crawfordsville, says:

Breaking up line plunges was the task the coach put before his pupils of the first team tonight. Admittedly the savage work of tonight that which will follow is to get the Wabash eleven ready for the heavy DePauw line which it meets in Indianapolis Nov. 20.

Sheeks believes the Methodists' line smashing is the most formidable thing his team will face, and the remainder of this week will be spent preparing to meet it. The second team charged time and again into the first eleven's line tonight, and at times pierced it for good gains. The coach is far from satisfied.

Sheeks is not worried about ability of his team to stop DePauw passes. Earham looks like a mere incident in the Scarlet's campaign at present and Sheeks is working his regulars for DePauw service, expecting the seconds to settle with the Quakers Saturday.

WHY YOU SHOULD TRADE WITH FIRMS THAT ADVERTISE.

Because the firm that asks for your business is most likely to treat you squarely to retain your business.

Because you are entitled to be told what your business men have to offer you. If they do not tell you they cannot complain if you buy elsewhere.

UNIQUE STAGE-CHARACTER IS POLLYANNA WHITTIER

Catherine Chisholm Cushing, Author of "Kitty MacKay" Has Turned the Famous "Glad Book" Into One of Season's Successful Plays—Interesting Cast in an Interesting Comedy

While the Chicago critics expressed unbounded praise for the clever manner in which Catherine Chisholm Cushing performed the difficult task of making the popular story of "Polly-

Hosford, and Helen Wethersby, appear as the gossip circle of the Ladies' Aid Society. The minor and incidental parts are filled with players well known to theatergoers.

HERBERT KELCEY AND EFFIE SHANNON, AS DOCTOR CLINTON AND AUNT POLLY, IN ACT II OF "POLLYANNA."

anna, the Glad Girl," into a play, they have given no small part of the credit for the success of the comedy in Chicago to the excellent judgment shown by the producers, Klaw & Erlinger and George Tyler, in casting the work with players of charm, talent, and great personal popularity. Readers of the story of "Pollyanna" are legion; and, as it is the expectation that all who have read the book will desire to see the play, the cast is appended:

Pollyanna.....Patricia Collinge
Miss Harrington.....Effie Shannon
John Pendleton.....Philip Merivale
Dr. Clinton.....Herbert Kelcey
Nancy.....Jessie Busley
Jimmy Bean (aged 12).....Bobby Tobin
Jimmy Bean (aged 17).....Lorin Raker
Three fine and popular actresses, the Misses Maude Granger, Maud

The Indianapolis territory holds the record, according to the publishers' statement, for the largest sale of the "Glad Book."

After a highly successful engagement in the Blackstone theater in Chicago, "Pollyanna" comes to Indianapolis in the English for a six evening's engagement together with the usual Wednesday and Saturday matinees and a special Thanksgiving afternoon performance. While this engagement was only announced a week ago, it is already proving a boon to patrons from outside of Indianapolis, as is evidenced by the extraordinary number of mail orders for reservations. Manager Miller again desires to make known through the columns of this paper that special attention will be given to his many out of Indianapolis patrons.

How to Prevent Croup.
It may be a surprise to you to learn that in many cases croup can be prevented. Mrs. H. M. Johns, Elida, Ohio, relates her experience as follows: "My little boy is subject to croup. During the past winter I kept a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house, and when he began having that croupy cough I would give him one or two doses of it and it would break the attack. I like it better for children than any other cough medicine because children take it willingly, and it is safe and reliable." Obtainable everywhere.

WITH OLD DePAUW

CO-ED BALLOT SEEKERS
ABANDON OLD LEAGUE;
TAKE UP CIVIC WORK

Because they desire to extend their activities to cover a larger field of woman's service, the members of the Franchise League in joint meeting with women interested in general civic problems voted on Monday at a meeting in Plato Hall to merge the league with a new organization, a Civic League.

Miss Katherine Sprague Alvord, dean of women, attended the meeting and expressed her approval of the bigger-service plan. She talked to the women on the opportunities of a civic league in the university, outlining the work which such an organization should perform. Cooperation with the women of Greencastle was one of the suggestions of the dean.

The following officers were elected: Ruth Eloise Ogle, president and Self-Government Association representative; Fern Sprague, vice president and chairman of the program committee; Nelda Weather, secretary, and Jean Norris, treasurer.

Altho the Franchise League was set aside, the question of the ballot will not be neglected, the women say.

"We don't want people to think that we believe suffrage a dead issue," Miss Ogle says. "We want every one to see that we are only making the scope of the new organization greater than that of the old."

Mrs. C. C. North, Mrs. N. W. Barnes and Dean Alvord were elected to serve on the advisory board.

VIGILANCE COMMITTEE TO BEGIN YEAR'S WORK ON NEW ATHLETES SATURDAY

"The Vigilance Committee will hold its initial meeting immediately after Old Gold Day to start its work for the year," said Heber Ellis, graduate manager of athletics, yesterday.

Due to the fact that every one has been busy with football practices and with preparation for Old Gold Day no work has been done by the organization this year.

Only a few names of prospective DePauw athletes have been handed in to the committee but each fraternity expects to have a large number of high school men down for Old Gold Day and at that time an effort will be made to get these men interested in DePauw.

Manager Ellis states that he desires to meet all of these men who are interested in athletics during their visit at DePauw.

SIGMA DELTA CHI WILL PUBLISH FIVE COLUMN
EXTRA ON OLD GOLD DAY

Extra! Extra! Old Gold Day Extra! This is what newboys will be yelling Saturday night when the first five column Daily ever issued will be sold on the campus. The edition will be published entirely by Sigma Delta Chi, the honorary journalistic fraternity.

And it will be a real extra too—on bright pink paper. The entire space will be given to news matter and cuts of Coach Young, members of the football squad and possibly pictures of the men in action. A complete account will be given of the DePauw-Rose Poly game and all events of Old Gold Day up to the time of the vaudeville in Meharry Hall.

Among the feature articles to be included in the columns of the extra will be a full history of DePauw's Fourth of July, as complete a list of visitors as possible, a story of college holidays at other schools, and the latest news on all branches of DePauw activities up to date.

Because of the fact that the paper will include everything of interest about Old Gold Day from the date of its birth eight years ago to the description of its latest occurrence, the extra will be gotten out with the idea of its being a souvenir of the school's biggest holiday. For this reason a large number of the papers will probably be used by the university publicity committee for mailing to high schools over the state. It is expected for the same reason that every student will want several of the extras to send home to friends or relatives.

UPPERCLASS COMMITTEE TO AUDIT ACCOUNTS OF STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

That an accounting will be made for all money used for class and University activities seems probable, according to a statement made by Dr. S. B. Town, financial secretary and treasurer of the university.

The matter was brought up in the Student Council last year but when Carl Smith, president of that body, left school, it was dropped. Since then it has been considered by the Administration Committee, but nothing definite has been done by that body.

The plan seems to be for the Student Council to nominate two students, either both seniors or one senior and one junior, as a permanent auditing committee, to cooperate with Dr. Town in the work of going over all accounts that come in. Nobody will be forced to present his accounts for auditing the whole thing being voluntary on the part of the students. This is done, said Dr. Town, to protect the good name of the students who have charge of organization funds rather than to force them to be honest.

The idea is patterned on that of Miami University, where every year there is published a detailed report of all receipts and expenditures on account of all school activities.

P. O. RUDY ONLY ENTRANT
IN TRY-OUTS TO SECURE
BERTH WITH WRANGLERS

The result of the debate try-out Monday evening to fill six vacancies on the team is stated as follows by Prof. Gough, of the department of Public Speaking and Debate.

"For the present the judges accept only P. O. Rudy as a member of the debate squad. The other contestants will be retained on the waiting line. Rudy will be given an assignment immediately."

Those on the waiting list are, Lester E. Keller, Winfield W. Denton, Mack C. Wylie, C. T. Akin, Forest G. Listenfelt.

The old members of the squad who debate Friday and Saturday on the Initiative and Referendum question are working hard to get into shape. Ernest W. Thompson and Russell G. Isenbarger argue for the negative Friday at Merom, and John R. Bolin and T. E. Perry uphold the affirmative Saturday before a teachers' institute at Peru.

BIG APE CAN TALK
MONKEY LANGUAGE

When the Smart Chimpanzee Is Hungry He Says "Oo-oo-Whowha" Whoh-hua" Means "Go Away"

Pasadena, Cal.—The fame of Chas. Fuller, the big chimpanzee, owned by E. W. Knowlton, this city has spread far and wide. Scientists and champions of the so-called "Darwin theory" have asked that when he dies his brain be turned over to them for comparison with the human brain.

"I should be glad," says Knowlton, "to give Fuller's brain to science if I survive him. But the monkey is not likely to die for a long time, as he is only 7 years old. I do believe, however, that he is the oldest and most intelligent chimpanzee in captivity, and no other monkey excels the chimpanzee in intelligence. Therefore, Fuller can rightly be looked upon as the nearest animal in the world to the human being."

"I have lately been at work making a dictionary of the words which I have found Fuller uses. I held an interesting conversation on the subject with Dr. Gurnee when he was here recently. I have so far defined six distinct words. There are undoubtedly many more. These six I have determined beyond all doubt. Each one is uttered precisely the same on one occasion as on another, and no one of them is ever uttered except when the monkey is in the frame of mind that the word would tend to show. I think that this demonstrates beyond all doubt that monkeys of the higher order can talk. When Charley says 'Oo-oo-Whowha,' I know he is hungry. 'Whoh-hua' means 'Go away.'"

"That they can think has already been proved. Fuller sews, ties and unties knots, untwists a swing and does many other things, not as he sees a person do them, but as he has learned to do."

"He has watched a woman sew, seeing that she made a stitch different than his, he has sat down with needle, thread and cloth and puckered up his brow and put his tongue between his teeth and worked away until he could do the same thing."

"But it has been the new stitch that he has sought, he has not merely imitated the seamstress in making this new stitch. Often he has found improvements in his own way of doing a simple thing, and henceforth dropped the old way for the new."

"I am exceedingly fond of Fuller. I look upon him almost in the light of a dumb person. He is sympathetic and kind and his mentality is of a high order. I have talked with him by the hour in the few words that he had to converse with, and I know that he has understood me, as I have understood him. I tell you a chimpanzee comes so near to a human being that it makes you start."

BABY TAKES THRILLING RIDE.

Down Hillside, Over 6-Foot Wall and Steps Trolley Car.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—After dashing down a steep hillside fifty yards in a go-cart, which overturned twice, and plunging from a six-foot retaining wall, George Budaie, aged 2, son of Rudolph Budaie, a Hungarian, of 2003 East street still strapped in a go-cart, landed in front of a trolley car in East street. The car was stopped in time to avoid running over the cart, and the baby crawled out from under the wrecked cart unhurt except for two slight bruises on the head.

Mail Carrier's Cost of Living Becomes How to Spend Income.

Kenosha, Wis.—Raymond Morehouse, a mail carrier, has joined the "silk stocking" class. The other night he went to bed wondering just how he was to keep the home going under the high cost of living.

The next morning he received a letter announcing that he was heir to $150,000, a portion of the estate of his uncle, Louis Morehouse, formerly of Kenosha county, who left here more than 50 years ago to seek his fortune in the gold fields of California. The uncle resided in San Leandro.

SAYS HE HEARS WITH HIS FEET.

Pedal Extremities Trained to Detect Sound Vibrations.

Brookton, Mass.—A new way of detecting sound was revealed in the superior court here when Harry J. Du Forest, a witness in the damage suit for alleged injuries received in a street car accident, testified that he distinctly hears noises with his feet.

The witness is very deaf, and in putting questions to him the attorneys had to shout in his ear. He explained that because of his deafness he has trained his feet to detect sounds so that he may cross streets in safety. He feels the vibration, he said.

PEACOCK DAMAGES AUTO CAR.

Bird Sees Its Image in Polished Door and Attacks Fiercely.

Grand Rapids, Mich.—A peacock in the natural park here saw his image in a highly polished automobile as it stood in the park. Apparently the image made the bird angry, for it flew at the auto, denting one of the doors and scratching the enamel in several places. Several men held the bird at bay until the owner of the automobile got in and drove away.

The Gretchen Plan

From Life.

"And Solomon had seven hundred wives," read Pastor Brandt.

Gretchen Edeler sat up to listen. A new idea had come to her. A distressing state of affairs existed in the village of Elson. There had gone to the war from the village over three hundred men. From the war there had returned fifty-one—only fifty one—and there in Elson were two hundred and eighty one girls wanting husbands.

Of the fifty-one returned soldiers twenty had wives and families already. Two had married during the war, married the nurses they had in the hospital. Hilda Sachs, the rich widow had captured one. That left just twenty-eight men available for husbands—twenty-eight to two hundred and eighty one girls.

Yet no marriages occurred. The men wished to marry as much as the girls, but how could a man decide with so many to pick from? Thus stood matters that Sunday morning. After the service Gretchen waited to speak to Pastor Brandt.

"Everything in the Bible" she asked anxiously, "is it always right?"

"Ja," the herr pastor affirmed, "the Bible always gives right."

"About everything?"

"Ja, about everything."

"The Bible says that Jacob had two wives and that Solomon had seven hundred wives. Is it right for men to have many wives?"

"It was right in Bible days," affirmed the pastor guardedly. "In those times many wives were needed to populate the land."

"Many wives are needed now to populate the land," said Gretchen. "Why should not each man in Elson take now ten wives?"

"It is against the law," declared the pastor.

"It is not against the Bible law."

The pastor pondered ten minutes.

"Nein," he answered, "it is not against the Bible law."

"It would be for the good of the Fatherland."

The pastor pondered twenty minutes.

"Ja," he decided, "it would be for the good of the Fatherland."

"We will do it," announced Gretchen. "Ten of us will take one husband. Better a tenth of a husband than never any husband. Will you marry us?"

The pastor pondered thirty minutes.

"Ja," he said at length, "for the good of the Fatherland."

Quickly Gretchen spread her news. Quickly the girls accepted the Gretchen plan. Quickly they formed themselves into groups of ten and selected a husband. Quickly the twenty-eight men accepted. What man wouldn't?

Only Selma Kronk, the homeliest of homely old maids, was left unmarried. In indignant dismay she hastened to Frau Werner's kaffeeklatch and unfolded to the married women assembled there the schreckliche Gretchen plan.

"Impossible!" asserted Frau Stern. "Unspeakable!" declared Frau Heitner.

"It must not be!" announced Frau Werner.

In outraged wrath they appealed to their husbands to interfere.

"It is for the good of the Fatherland," the husbands one and all declared. "What man would not have ten wives if he could?"

They appealed to the Mayor, to the Governor, even to the Kaiser himself, but in vain. To a man they welcomed the idea.

So the Gretchen plan was carried out. Each war hero took ten wives, not only in Elson, but throughout the land.

Nevertheless, Frau Werner and the other aggrieved respectable advocates of monogamy had their revenge.

As invariably happens after the war all the babies born were boy babies.

"Aha!" cried Frau Werner exultantly, as each new birth was announced. "Twenty years from now there will not be women enough to go around. Each wife then will have to have ten husbands. I wonder how the men will like that?"

Where It Was Lost.

The following episode took place in a country village in the north of England. One morning as a schoolmaster was proceeding to his school he saw a penny lying on the ground. Picking it up, he placed the penny in his pocket, and after the children had assembled in the school the schoolmaster said: "Has any child lost any money?"

After a few moments a small boy in the front of the class put up his hand.

"Well, Robert, what do you want?" asked the master.

"Please, sir, I lost a penny," replied the boy.

"And where did you lose your penny, Robert?" inquired the master.

"Please, sir, where you found it," Robert got his penny.

The Burglar's Joke.

Burglar—"There goes a detective. Pick his pocket and bring me his knife."

Pickpocket—"Wot d'ye want his knife for?"

Burglar—"The next time I'm attacked, I'll defend myself with it, an' then leave it behind for him to find when he's huntin' for clews."

The strain of waiting for Nov. 13 to come became too great Tuesday night and the university freshmen and sophomores had a class fight in front of the public library on Walnut street. In former years the scrap generally has occurred on Old Gold Day, when the freshman would try to lower the sophomore colors from the pole which would be located in the center of McKee field. Tuesday night saw the breaking of the inactivity. The freshmen heard that the sophomores were to have a meeting and were out in force. Contrary to the scraps of former years the freshmen took the offensive and made the round of the fraternity houses trying to locate the sophomores. Finally representation of the two classes met on Walnut street and the fight was on. The freshmen seemed to have the best of it until some sophomores in an automobile got the president of the freshman class and carried him about three miles in the country, where they let him out and allowed him to walk back to town. The fight was then declared a draw. Considerable damage was done to the property near the scene of the scrap especially the library lawn which suffered greatly from the students fighting on it.

The death of Miss Alma Hawthorne, of Wingate, Ind., occurred this morning at 11 o'clock following an operation for appendicitis. Miss Hawthorne was a graduate of DePauw in the class of 1913. During her school life here she was prominent in all university activities and was one of the most prominent and popular girls in school. She was a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. The funeral arrangements are not known here. Miss Hawthorne had several brothers who also attended DePauw, "Kinks" Hawthorne, one of DePauw's recent football stars, being a brother.

Brazil News: Miss Emma Batman of Bloomington and Miss Gladys Moon of Greencastle will give an entertaining program at the chapel exercises Wednesday morning in the high school assembly. Miss Batman will play the harp. She is a graduate of Indiana University and has studied music in Indianapolis and Georgetown, Miss Moon will read. She is an assistant in the department of education of DePauw University. Many Brazilians will remember Miss Moon as a charming reader. She was here last winter. The program is under the auspices of the freshman class. Miss Eaton and Mr. Cutts are assisting the class. The public is invited. This will be one of the very best chapel exercises of the year. Come and hear it. The admission is free.

PLANS FOR THE DEPAUW-WABASH FOOTBALL CLASH

VICE-PRESIDENT THOMAS R. MARSHALL, A WABASH ALUMNUS, INVITED TO ATTEND GAME AND PROBABLY WILL ACCEPT-INDIANAPOLIS ALUMNI OF DEPAUW PLAN FOR "D" MEN'S ORGANIZATION.

PARADE OF RIVAL ROOTERS

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 9.—If work that is really enthusiastic and at the same time well directed, shall count for anything, then the Wabash-DePauw football game, to be played at Washington Park, Nov. 20, should attract a crowd of sufficient proportions to warrant making Indianapolis the place in which annually to have this important collegiate contest.

Those Wabash and DePauw alumni who have been quietly at work for some time, yesterday fell to with a vengeance and, after what amounted to an all-day session, made interesting and important announcements concerning the arrangements that have been made or are being planned.

Will Invite Vice President. Possibly the item of the most interest that developed is that Vice President Thomas R. Marshall—one of the most notable of all the graduates of Wabash—will today receive an urgent invitation to witness the game. Will Diddel, graduate manager of athletics at the Crawfordsville school, last night sent the Vice President the invitation and his message will be reinforced by another, which will go today, from President George R. Mackintosh of Wabash College. Mr. Diddel said last night that he had reason to believe that Mr. Marshall will accept.

Roy F. Rich, J. J. Daniels and Will Diddel, representing Wabash, and Guernsey VanRiper, Charles W. Jewett and Heber Ellis, representing DePauw, held a protracted session in the Columbia Club, beginning at noon yesterday. These gentlemen form the joint committee having in hand all arrangements for the game. Announcement was made that there will be, on the morning of a week from Saturday, what will amount to a joint parade of Wabash and DePauw undergraduates and rooters.

Will March Through Streets. The Wabash contingent is due to arrive at the Union Station from Crawfordsville at 10 o'clock that morning, while the DePauw delegation will reach the Terminal Station about 10:15. The Scarlet rooters, headed by a squadron of mounted police, will march up Illinois street, while the Old Gold supporters, having a similar escort, will march up Illinois. Arriving at Washington street approximately at the same time, the two sets of paraders will move east to Pennsylvania, north to Ohio, west to Illinois and south to Market. There the Wabash part of the parade will leave, going east to the Circle and thence, via Meridian to Washington Hotel, which will be the headquarters for the Scarlet team and its supporters. The DePauw marchers will go directly to the Claypool, designated as their headquarters. Each division of the parade will have two bands.

It also was announced that Police Chief Perrott has promised adequately to police Washington Park while the game is in progress and also that traffic will be diverted, as much as possible before and after the game to prevent congestion on the temporary bridge on West Washington street. Seats Can Be Reserved Now. Tickets for the game will go on sale next Monday at Weber's drug store in the Claypool Hotel. However, reservations now can be made by mail, providing the requests are sent to Roy F. Rich, Room 213 Fletcher National Bank Building. The prices range from $2 for a box seat to $1 for general admission, reserved seats, other than those in boxes, being held at $1.50. Students from both Wabash and DePauw, as well as those from the high schools of Indianapolis, Crawfordsville and Greencastle, will be admitted for 50 cents. The downtown sale of seats will close the evening before the game and the tickets will be taken to Washington Park, where they will be on sale at 9 o'clock of the morning of the contest.

The Indianapolis DePauw Alumni Association is planning also to lend its aid to furthering the efforts of the joint committee. President Dwight Ritter has sent invitations to all Indianapolis graduates of the Greencastle university to attend a meeting in the Chamber of Commerce at noon today. At this meeting arrangements will be made to have a dinner on the evening before the game to which all athletes who "made" varsity teams at DePauw will be guests. It is planned also to effect, on that occasion, a "D" men's organization, similar to the "I" men of Indiana University. Prominent alumni will be invited to make after dinner talks at this banquet.

The DePauw athletic board met last evening and every member pledged his individual efforts to make the coming game a successful one from every point of view.

"JAPLAND," SEASON'S NEWEST OFFERING

"Japland," one of the largest traveling organizations, employing the joint services of John W. Vogel's Big Minstrels in its entirety, also a complete caste for opera, a girl chorus of twenty, concert band and double symphony orchestra, will be seen at the Opera House Thursday night, Nov. 11th. The books deals with the world's tour of a famous grand opera company which encounters opposition at Tokio with an American minstrel. An informal reception in their honor is held in the tea garden of the Mikado, the band and orchestra of Vogel's Big Minstrels furnishing the music for the occasion. A grand double performance in the form of an out-of-doors Cabaret is the result of the meeting, the artists of both combinations endeavoring to outdo the other that the Mikado and his suit be entertained in royal American fashion. The minstrels give their first-part in costume, and the operatic contingent sing selections from the many compositions in their vast repertoire, the numbers including a duet from "Pinaforte," trio from "Iolanthe," Three Little Maids from "The Mikado" and the Sextette from "Lucia." The specialties from the minstrel olio prevent montony and the beautiful girl chorus lures the hearts of the Japanese onlookers with captivating tango gyrations and pretty gowns. The play is in two acts and fourteen scenes—all carried by the company—and is pictorially, as well as for gorgeous costuming, a grand spectacle entirely worth while, superior in every way to that seen with the average road show. Seats on sale at the Cook Drug store, 35, 50 and 75 cents. Phone number 19.

The S. C. C. Club was delightfully entertained Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Edith Swift about six miles south of this city. The members of the club made the trip in the Cherry motor truck. After enjoying a bountiful supper the party withdrew to the parlor where a musical program was given. The party making the trip was Miss Ella Bowman, Mrs. Jesse Beemer, Miss Nina Cook, Miss Mary Curran, Miss Ethel Daniels, Miss Urtle Ruark, Mrs. Ernest Stoner, Miss Ruth Steward, Miss Lula Shildmyer, Miss Lelia Talbott, Miss Susan Talbott, Mrs. Fred Thomas, Miss Nelda Werneke and a guest, Miss Lena Cahill.

A suit asking that a guardian be appointed for Mrs. Myrtle Young was filed in the circuit court of Putnam county this morning by Dorcas J. Watson.

C. E. Lucas has accepted a position in the Shoe department of the Hub Clothing & Shoe store. Mr. Lucas came to this city from Bloomington.

The case in which Oliver Evans has filed a petition in the Putnam Circuit Court, asking that a guardian be appointed for Malissa Butler, widow of the late William Butler, is being tried today before a jury. Mrs. Butler is resisting the appointment of a guardian. Mr. Evans alleges that because of her advanced age she is unable to properly manage her 110-acre farm.

Owing to a mistake in Tuesday's edition of The Herald, the name of Miss Jesse Bicknell was omitted from the list of those initiated by the Alpha O sorority Saturday evening.

BIG SMOKER AT CLAYPOOL HOTEL

IS TO BE THE CURTAIN RAISER FOR THE DEPAUW-WABASH FOOTBALL ENGAGEMENT AT INDIANAPOLIS ON SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 20, WHEN BRAUN AND BRAIN WILL CLASH IN CONTEST FOR MASTERY.

NO FRILLS OR FORMALITIES

Members of the DePauw Indianapolis Alumni Association had an enthusiastic meeting Tuesday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce, and got behind the plan of President Dwight Ritter for a gathering of DePauw men on Friday night preceding the game with Wabash here Nov. 20.

This meeting will take the form of a smoker, and will be held at the Claypool Hotel. A good, substantial dinner will be served—without any "frills" or formalities. All DePauw men who have ever played on the university's athletic teams in the past, whether or not they have been awarded "D's," are being especially invited to be present as guests of honor. There will be informal talks by some of the old men and then the "new" men will have a chance to explain what is being done to strengthen athletics at DePauw.

In order that every person in the great crowd that is expected to attend an annual DePauw-Wabash game at Washington Park may know "just what is going on" all the time, careful plans have been made for a gigantic scoreboard which will tell the story of the game as it progresses. The announcement that seats for the game would go on sale at Weber's drug store, in the Claypool, next Monday morning, has, according to reports from the arrangements committees, stimulated the growing interest in the championship struggle.

At a meeting of the joint committee further arrangements were made Tuesday for handling the big crowd. Fifty ushers will be used, twenty-five being selected from the student body of Wabash and twenty-five from DePauw.

The Claypool Hotel is to be DePauw headquarters, and with men coming in from over the state for the next day's game it is expected to be a lively place on Friday night.

More Money and Less Labor For the person who has milkers and sells the product

If you sell your cream to us you realize as great a profit (possibly greater) than if you go to a lot of trouble and churn it and sell the butter. We think that if you will sell us your cream one time you will agree with us.

When you sell us your cream it is tested and the money paid on delivery. All your worries and troubles are over as far as the cream and butter business is concerned.

Patrons who are too far away to deliver their cream send it by express. If you will drop us a postal we will explain how easily and cheaply this can be done.

We have bought lots of cream since we opened on October 23, but we can handle more. Bring in your cream. Our price will always be right. Our motto is live and let live.
